INTRODUCTION

Institute of Criminal Justice and Criminology Administration (ICJCA) is a Professional Body in the core area of Criminal Justice System, Prison Administration and Law Enforcement. The Institute was established under ACT 1 CAP of 1990 as a non-profit organization limited by guarantee

The importance of criminal justice to the smooth running of any society cannot be over emphasized. Indeed, an effective criminal justice system is regarded by many as fundamental to the maintenance of law and order. However, the Nigerian criminal justice system is not only dysfunctional it is also outdated and absolutely not fit for the required purpose. This much was highlighted by the Vice President Federal Republic of Nigeria Professor Yemi Osinbajo (SAN) when addressing the challenges of the criminal justice system in Nigeria by asserting that "many of the provisions are outdated and in some cases anachronistic. Besides, the loopholes in the law and procedure have become so obvious that lawyers especially defense lawyers have become masters in delay tactics. It has thus become increasingly difficult to reach closure of any kind in many criminal cases. Convictions and acquittals have become exceedingly rare". While the foregoing assertion is quite instructive, it is pertinent to note that these views are widely held among many legal practitioners and eminent jurist, who have also called for fundamental reform to the Nigerian criminal justice system.

'An effective criminal justice system is fundamental to the maintenance of law and order. Criminal justice, because it addresses behavioral issues, must be dynamic and proactive. ... Consequently, many of the provisions are outdated and in some cases anachronistic. Besides, the loopholes in the laws and procedures it has become so obvious that lawyers especially defense lawyers have become masters in dilatory tactics. It has thus, become increasingly difficult to reach closure of any kind in many criminal cases. Convictions or acquittals have become exceedingly rare'. Vice President Professor Yemi Osinbajo, (SAN)
